From the Top...

President's Message

As a business professional (and owner) the most important thing you can learn is that building relationships is not just about one visit or handing someone your business card. Just like one dinner date doesn't insure that you now have a place in a person's life, clients are not always achieved by just one visit or call; that's where Chamber membership enters the picture.

As an active member of the Chamber, I have seen my business grow through my work on various Chamber committees. Social media tools like Facebook have added a new dimension to the way we connect: but never underestimate the importance of good old fashioned face-to-face contact.

Take time each month to check the Chamber calendar and see what events you can fit into your plans. That personal interaction does matter and is well worth the time.

Thank you to all that were a part of our OWN Luncheon. Many of you filled tables with clients and peers: what a great way to solidify both your personal and professional connections! A special thank you goes to James & Sons Fine Jewelers for their sponsorship and generous raffle donation. I'm sure the lucky lady that won that necklace would echo our gratitude!

Thank you to all of our sponsors. Event sponsorships are a huge part of our Chamber events and we appreciate your participation. I hope that all attendees were inspired to go forward and embrace their challenges in a positive way.

Be sure to make time building business relationships each month. The Chamber has a couple noteworthy events you'll want to put on your calendar for May and June. Our Chamber is partnering with the Homer Township and Lemont Chambers for networking event at Ruffled Feathers Golf Club on Wednesday, May 7 at 11:30. Your time is valuable. Everyone has to eat lunch so making connections during lunch is a productive use of that time. Mimi's Café is hosting a unique Business After Hours on June 12 that features a wine tasting. Enjoy a glass of wine and spend some time widening your client base. The weather is warming up and our Annual Golf Outing and Fine Art Fair Committees are well into their planning. Consider sponsoring our Golf Outing – there are a number of sponsor opportunities available.

The Golf Outing Committee has some creative thinkers at work so join us for golf and don't be surprised if a "SuperHero" challenges your golf skills!

Be sure to let your artist friends know we have openings for artists to reserve a booth at our Fine Art Fair. Are you looking to get involved in the community? We're looking for sponsors for this event. Our sponsor donations help us organize and promote the Fine Art Fair. We appreciate your contribution at any level.

One final thought, remember to shop Chamber members as you plan those summer barbecues and attend those special occasions. Chamber members will appreciate your loyalty!

Here's hoping your summer months begin with warm and fun-filled days!

Mayor's News and Notes

Happy spring! The inaugural Irish Music Trolley, offered the Saturday before St.

Patrick's Day, was a big success. Four Orland Park eateries coordinated their Irish music shows with free trolley service provided among them. A few hundred people rode the trolley and gave rave reviews. We look forward to adding this to the village's cultural offerings for next year.

We officially welcome summer to Orland Park during Memorial Day Weekend. The village's Centennial Park Aquatic Center will debut for the 2014 season and we will honor and remember all fallen heroes at the village's annual Memorial Day Ceremony. Everyone is invited to join us at the 1 p.m. ceremony at the Veterans Memorial at the Village Center, 14700 South Ravinia Avenue. See the village's website for a full list of the many upcoming special events. Progress on the Illinois Department of Transportation's widening of LaGrange Road continues and IDOT and its contractors are working steadily to complete this much needed improvement through the center of town.

The village is doing its part to keep the community informed of pending lane closures and other announcements so we can all work together to minimize the project's impact on local businesses. Find the latest project announcements on the village's website at orlandpark.org. Winter's departure always leaves its calling card, namely potholes. The village's pothole hotline is up and running at 708/403-5010. Call in the location of potholes or report them online on the village's website at orlandpark.org.

The latest edition of Village of Orland Park IN-FOCUS is airing on Comcast, U-Verse and on the village's YouTube channel at youtube.com/VillageofOrlandPark. Hosted by Trustee Jim Dodge, this show is a public safety round table with Trustee Dan Calandriello, chair of the village's Public Safety Committee, and Police Chief Tim McCarthy. It's an interesting discussion and if you don't catch it on cable, watch it on YouTube.

A huge topic among police agencies across the country and throughout the Chicagoland area is ruse burglaries, with criminals targeting seniors. Ruse burglary is when criminals try to distract people from their homes so an accomplice can enter another door and steal cash, jewelry and other items.

The Orland Park Police Department is in the midst of a community wide public awareness campaign to get the word out to area seniors to be aware of people who are trying to victimize them. Seniors are targeted because they're home during the day, they oftentimes want to talk and they're willing to comply with "authority" figures.

All solicitors going door to door in the village must first apply at and be screened by the Orland Park Police Department. If a solicitor comes to your home or business not displaying an official solicitor's badge, immediately notify the police department. If you see a suspicious vehicle in your neighborhood, call the police. If you see an unfamiliar vehicle at a senior neighbor's home, knock on the door and ask if everything is okay.

The police department also recommends getting the color, make and model of the vehicle driven by someone knocking at your door. Remind seniors to never, ever let strangers into their home and do not accompany strangers outside without locking the house or having a family member attending the door. Read more about how you can help your senior family members and friends at orlandpark.org.

All-American Feast: 5 Tips to a Safer Summer Cookout

Submitted by Karen Saltanovitz,
Palos Community Hospital

With cold drinks, sweet treats and grills at the ready, the holidays of summer provide a perfect opportunity for a festive outdoor party. But practicing proper food safety is a must. With hot temperatures and the increased potential for cross-contamination, picnics bring the possibility of foodborne illness and exposure to several cancer-causing compounds. Follow these tips from Eileen Conneely, a registered dietitian from Palos Health & Fitness Center, to help you celebrate the summer cookout season with sizzle, spice and everything nice.

Keep it Clean

Make sure your grill is clean. Scrub grates with hot, soapy water before every use. And always wash your hands before, during and after grilling. Grilling is an excellent way to cook healthy and eliminate unwanted fat, however, keeping your grill clean and cooking meats thoroughly is critical to preventing such food-borne bacteria as Salmonella and E. coli. Grilling also can produce two specific cancer-causing compounds, heterocyclic amine (HCA) and polycyclic aromatic hydrocarbons (PAHs). While vegetables and other foods typically do not create these compounds, grilling meats at high temperatures can. Trimming fat, marinating and grilling at lower temperatures can help keep carcinogens on the sidelines.

Cook Thoroughly but Don't Overcook

Always cook picnic favorites like hamburgers and bratwursts to 160 degrees Fahrenheit. Steaks should be cooked to 145 degrees and chicken breasts to 165 degrees. A meat thermometer is the only reliable way to ensure foods are safe to eat. While it's important to cook poultry and ground meats thoroughly, be careful not to overcook any meat. Well-done or burnt meats contain higher levels of HCAs.

Marinate

Researchers have determined marinating meat prior to grilling, even for just a few minutes can reduce the amount of HCA by 90 percent or more. It's believed the marinade forms a protective barrier for the meat juices, preventing the HCA reaction from occurring. Marinate meat in the refrigerator and bring leftover sauces to a boil before using them on cooked meats. For less charring, baste sauces containing sugars (fruit puree, honey, preserves) toward the end of cooking.

Prevent Flare-ups

Flames from grill flare-ups cause the formation of both HCAs and PAHs. Keep an eye on your grill, and turn meats frequently to minimize the risk of flare-ups.

Keep Perishables Cold

Perishable items need to be put back in the cooler, or refrigerator if available, after no more than two hours. Make it one hour if the temperature is 90 degrees or above.

Tips For Hiring A Cleaning Service

Submitted by Kim Menard, You've Got Maids

the cleaning lady can provide a written proof of insurance certificate showing Workers Compensation insurance coverage, your home or business is taking a major financial risk.

The fact is if an uninsured worker in the home or business gets injured; guess who is financially liable to pay for all medical bills? That's right, the homeowner or business is liable!

This same rule applies to not having commercial bonding insurance. If a cleaning lady breaks something in a home or office the homeowner will bear the risk. Don't take that risk. Do your homework and be sure to protect yourself from any potential problems.

Don't let your house cleaner clean you out financially! The majority of businesses and homeowners do not realize the high financial risk they are taking when they allow an independent cleaning lady into their homes or offices to provide cleaning service. Unless

Help Us Promote the Arts in Orland Park

The snow has kept us all hemmed in for the winter months, but the Chamber has been using that time productively! Plans are underway for our 2014 Fine Art Fair. The Fine Art Fair will take place Saturday, July 19 and Sunday, July 20 from 11:00 am to 4:00 pm at Orland Park Crossing (143rd and LaGrange Road). The Fine Art Fair Committee is planning a full day of family fun. In addition to family musical entertainment, two art projects are planned for all to create. Local restaurants will be offering food and drink for sale and we're hoping for a great artist turnout from which residents can shop. Help us get the word out!

Let all of the artists in your life know that we have openings for them to display and sell their work. The Early Bird rate expires on May 1 so be sure to let your friends know so they can take advantage of that rate. We're also looking for sponsors.

We have three different levels of sponsorship so be sure to check them out and see what fits into your budget. Our sponsors provide the extra funds needed to purchase supplies and promotional materials for the Fair. Both registration forms can be found on the home page of the website at www.orlandparkchamber.org.
